

Aerotech Modern Slavery and human trafficking statement for Financial Year 2026

Aerotech is committed to acting in an ethical and responsible manner. We have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery and human trafficking. Modern slavery is a crime and a violation of human rights. It takes various forms, such as slavery, servitude, forced and compulsory labour and human trafficking, all of which have in common the deprivation of a persons liberty by another in order to exploit them for personal or commercial gain.

Aerotech prohibits the practice of modern slavery within its facilities and supply chains. This policy applies to all employees at all levels within the Aerotech organisation and its suppliers and their supply chains. We assess our supply chain and where any risks are identified further assessments or auditing may be undertaken as necessary.

Aerotech will promptly and thoroughly investigate any claim or indications of modern slavery. If any supplier is found in violation of this policy Aerotech will take remedial actions to address it.

The Director of Administration is accountable for ensuring that the supply chain assessment process is carried out thoroughly. The Director is also responsible for providing training to ensure employees that are involved in supply chain management, other employees and representatives are compliant with this policy.

Our organisation

Aerotech Inc designs and manufactures the highest performance motion control, positioning tables/stages, and positioning systems for our customers in industry, government, science, and research institutions around the world.

Aerotech's precision motion control products provide the critical performance for today's demanding applications in markets such as medical device and life sciences, semiconductor and flat panel, photonics, automotive, data storage, laser processing, military/aerospace, electronics manufacturing, test, assembly, research and development, and other markets requiring high precision, high throughput motion solutions.

Aerotech products are manufactured by Aerotech Inc in Pittsburgh, PA. Aerotech manufactures the great majority of the components and subcomponents of Aerotech products in-house. For some Aerotech products, Aerotech sources a small number of components from external suppliers. Aerotech Inc products are marketed and sold locally in the UK by Aerotech Ltd.

Our salient human rights issues

We consider that modern slavery and human trafficking are more likely to take place within our supply chains than within Aerotech.

In particular, as is the case for all manufacturers of high-tech products, we recognise that there are risks in the sourcing of raw materials and in the components provided to Aerotech by external suppliers.

Aerotech has mechanisms in place with its first-tier suppliers to ensure that those suppliers comply with all relevant legal duties.

Our policies

We operate a number of internal policies to ensure that we are conducting business in an ethical and transparent manner. These include:

1. Recruitment policy. Aerotech policy includes conducting eligibility to work checks for all employees to safeguard against human trafficking or individuals being forced to work against their will.
2. Whistleblowing policy. This ensures all employees know they can raise concerns about how colleagues are being treated, or practices within our business or supply chain, without fear of reprisals.
3. Modern Slavery and Human Trafficking Policy. This code explains the manner in which we behave as an organization towards another human being both within our facilities and our supply chains.
4. Employee Handbook. This sets out Aerotech's business ethics and standards of conduct expected from all employees.

Our suppliers

Aerotech operates a supplier policy and maintains a preferred supplier list.

We conduct due diligence on all suppliers before allowing them to become preferred suppliers.

We are currently mapping our tier 1 suppliers and continue to identify any risks of modern slavery.

Looking forward

Aerotech recognises its ongoing responsibilities as a business regarding modern slavery and human trafficking. From the financial year 2026, Aerotech intends to:

1. Conduct modern slavery training for our employees so that they are aware of the relevant issues and what to do if they suspect that it is taking place within our supply chain.
2. Continue to map our tier 1 supply chain, including our sales and support subsidiaries in other countries, to enable us to identify any specific modern slavery risks within it.
3. Carry out audits of our suppliers that have been identified as 'High Risk' to ensure that they have never been convicted of offences relating to modern slavery.

Our performance indicators

We will know the effectiveness of the steps that we are taking to ensure that slavery and/or human trafficking is not taking place within our business or supply chain if:

- Reports are received from employees, the public, or law enforcement agencies to indicate that modern slavery practices have been identified;
- We continue the mapping of our tier 1 supply chain and the identification of any specific modern slavery risks within it;
- A system for supply chain verification is developed.
